I am working on a small utility that may help make Popup easier in many situations.

It seeks to handle some situations which DropChoice, DropTree and DropGrid either don't take care of or can not be used in with ease.

It aims to support auto-popup, auto-select, and auto-completion. Attached example shows auto-popup and auto-select. auto-completion is not currently supported. I am still debating on the mechanism to communicate auto-completion information from the popup to the owner (or main) ctrl.

For an brief idea of what PopEasy is, please try attached example. It's still very primitive, but please feel free to give your input.

Some concrete PopUp class similar to DropTree and DropChoice will be added for convenience. They are not currently present though.

Thanks,

Lance
