Hi there!

I would like to know if there is a field for userspecific information about a control.

In my case: I want to have a button with a certain default style. Then this button gets highlighted, using another style. Afterwards I want it to have its normal style again. So before I change the style, I want to store a pointer to the standard style somewhere in the button, like:

```
But.UserData=&normalStyle;
```

or

```
But.Misc=&normalStyle;
```

Is there a field reserved for arbitrary purposes like this?

Greetings!
