Yes, upgrade to the latest daily U++ build.

With Win7 there should not be a problem with copy/paste.

Just rename your current upp directory upp5390
Download the latest Nightly build and install

After you select the text when you right click on it your mouse needs to be a little higher on the line than usual or your selected text will lose the selection.
Try that first.

edit: The U++ devs might consider changing the center of the mouse icon for the pick point to the tip unless there is a reason not to.
