With a desktop or notebook with a keyboard Ctrl+F is fast and easy to pull up the 'Find' box.

On a tablet with a smaller screen without a keyboard clicking to bring up an on screen keyboard or Edit->Find and Replace->Find to paste in selected text or just search again from the top or even another file.

I don't recall using any other IDE, text editor, etc. where the find box just vanishes.

Some users are more mouse oriented when debugging.

Especially when different computer keyboards are different for a 12, 15 or 17 inch computers.

And for those that do not have the Hot-Keys memorized.

One option may be to have Ctrl+F toggle it Off-ON.

Maybe even in setup have the option to toggle or the way it is now.
