Hello,

and thanks for your reply.

When I call ShutdownThreads() within a class, will only the local threads be closed? (which are in the same scope)

Because I have more threads in my main program, which should NOT shutdown.

And even if all Threads get the Shutdown flag set, they won't stop if I do not check the shutdown flag with IsShutdownThreads, right?

What do you mean with "create my own flag"?

Well, I think I have to study the source of ShutdownThreads, maybe I understand then...

Thanks again for your hints!
