Yes. I am using the latest nightly build under MintLinux (Ubuntu) and Web is gone and HttpClient is gone too!

I can find one reference to HttpClient and it is in XmlRpc.h and it appears to be an oversight.

Did HttpClient just get renamed to HttpRequest?

What about Htmls? Will SysInfo and Functions4U get updated to work with the latest UPP? It would be good if Sysinfo was incorporated into main UPP out of bazaar IMO.

My project is a mess just now until this all gets sorted.
