Exactly what I thought when I saw that the times are so much faster now, "That looks to good to be true" I probably made som mistake in the code or there is something I missed about sqlite syntax, I'm no expert either

You should probably check the queries. Some time ago in another thread, I posted a very simple sqlite console written in U++. You can use that or some other tools (e.g. sqlitebrowser or sqliteman) to inspect the contents of the database and to easily test the queries.
