That works good. It will be a help when Upp includes support for 2012.

I updated the Upp build and should have renamed the Upp directory adding the build number. I usually do but this time did not.
Spent an hour or so trying to get it to work.
Got to an internet connection and got the data again.

One thing I noticed it is a little more picky on letting things slide. I had a few functions like:
string Func (.....)
String daa;
....
return daa

no go.

had to change it to String Func (....)

Thanks again Kel
