
Subject: Something wrong with post_identity()?

Hi.

When testing example Skylark applications I found a strange issue with app no. 6 (FORM POST). When I fill a form and try to submit it I get redirected to /submit subpage, but instead of displaying the text sent by me it displays the "identity error" message. It's caused by $post_identity() used in index.witz template, with this line removed the application works as expected. What's wrong here?

Best regards,
Piotrek
