This doesn't work for me I have unpacked the archive you posted in my home dir I figured that it was supposed to go there ?
But the Templates do not show up in the new package dialog.
Or am I doing something wrong ?
is there a chance to get the original files from a Linux version of the templates somewhere, but I cannot use a former install to take the templates from, since this is my first install and my first post to the forum.
Is this a quirk of Debian Linux or does this affect any Linux?
And forgive me any language mistakes for I am a foreigner, and English is not my native speech.

Thanks in advance for any help
