Hi sgifan,

I just compared you're code to the version on SVN and you're version of ButtonStyles_Demo is modified and does not compile (due to modifications in the .lay file)

I recommend you update to the latest version I just committed (just some cleaning that was waiting for deliver since some time now)

If it still does not compile, than it is probably a MSC related issue (I have no current means to compile for windows, I use linux): can you post all the compiler error message please.

I will try to set-up MSC under wine (mine got broken some time ago and I couldn't get it fixed quickly)
