Hello,

As you all know, there is an "Advanced" submenu under the "Edit" menu, and it contains some very handy commands such as To uppercase/lowercase/ascii, capitalize, swap case, convert to C string, Mark selection with t_, etc.

When applying these commands on a whole file, it is fine to go through the Main Menu->Edit->Advanced->desired command. But when it comes to selecting single lines, words, etc. it becomes a litte annoying. So I think that it would be great if we could have an "Advanced" submenu in the context menu, which only appears when a line, word, etc. is selected.

What do you think?

Regards.
