

---

Subject: Re: Question about copyright

Posted by koldo on Tue, 14 Jan 2014 14:59:19 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

Hello slashupp

In summary you can do whatever you want with the code and you are only forced to include the copyright notice for U++ and all the free source used by it. You can get it all here.

For a better explanation you can go to the OSI web page here for the license and here for the FAQ.

---