Hi,

I have a style defined with a specific font. This font should be applied to all buttons with this style. Unless I explicitly set the font of the buttons to Null with `btn.SetFont(Null)` the font from the style isn't applied.

I've narrowed it down to line 174 of `Button.cpp`: the font is always set to `StdFont()`.

Is there any specific reason this gets always set and isn't retrieved from the style of the button, unless the font is set to Null?

Best regards,

Martin
