Yesterday in the evening I had the same suspicious crash with theide like Tom1 on Ubuntu 12.04. I started several times and working time became shorter and shorter ( ca 1 min). I had a look at the crash report and saw that it was thread 1 (out of 3) in module Line Edit that produced this error.

I then switched tasks to cool down a bit but returned after an hour or so with the idea to run theide under the control of gdb. No crash anymore for a good hour of usage. Really strange ...
