

---

Subject: [SOLVED] Re: Unable to compile MT applications (weird assembler error with GCC on Linux i386 arch)

Posted by Oblivion on Sun, 02 Mar 2014 00:44:45 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

Hello,

I finally found the solution. The problem was not in the U++, but in the gcc.

As it turned out, it was an architecture + machine specific oddity. Adding the "-fpic" option to the general build options solved the problem. Now MT applications compile and run successfully.

Regards.