I copy and paste daily data as formatted texts and tables from/to U++/Microsoft applications without problems so I imagine your problem is very specific to images in some particular situation.

Hi, Koldo!
Good for you and all other users who may not be facing the same issues, and I hope you're right about it being something specific to my situation. Nevertheless, please observe that I performed tests on two different Windows OS configurations and got mixed results as you can see in the reply I posted on Mirek's response in this topic.

Appreciate your concerns, tks!
