So finally managed to get my hands on the new builds.

It is always hard to update because I can never escape the trap of changing things in U++ to better suit my needs.

The new logo looks good, but I would make it slightly more contrasty and saturated.