

---

Subject: Re: Questions about CodeEditor

Posted by cbpporter on Thu, 02 Jul 2015 14:20:55 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

Another thing I did not manage to figure out: when editing things like .h, pairs of `#ifdef #endif` are joined together by a vertical blue line.

But if I change the extension of the file, the blue line is no longer shown, but the pseudocomment detailing what macro what closed (`// #ifdef foo`) still appears.

What controls the decision to render the blue line or not.

---