Subject: Re: Native DPI
Posted by Tom1 on Sat, 29 Aug 2015 11:54:22 GMT

Hi Mirek,

While still on Windows UHD: I just installed 8862 (after using 8817 for a while) and found that the menu items on the main menu are now better vertically centered than before. However, the vertical centering of 'Output mode' text (e.g. MSC9 Debug) is too much on the low side now: The letter 'g' of word Debug gets clipped on the lower edge and the texts appear to be a bit too low compared to horizontal center.

BTW: Where can I find up to date information comparable to that in "https://code.google.com/p/upp-mirror/source/list", which I have used until now?

Best regards,

Tom