Subject: Re: What next?
Posted by mirek on Mon, 21 Dec 2015 19:55:33 GMT

cbpporter wrote on Mon, 21 December 2015 18:07For some reason some people perceive calling something "ultimate" as tacky and it is also not easy to google, so we should grep the site and replace Ultimate++ with U++?

Actually, I was using just U++ for years, for exactly this reason.

Anyway, the trouble is that U++ is hard to google and also there are (AFAIK) two other open-source libraries called U++.

Also, there is a problem with www domain. (www.uplusplus.com ? weird)

Thus I am open to complete name change.

Mirek