Subject: Re: gentle criticism of source organization
Posted by Werner on Sun, 20 Aug 2006 16:23:26 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

At first glance the upp structure indeed seems to be quite a bit confusing. And much to my regret I have to admit that I don't like each and every part of it (to express it in a euphemistic way).

On the other hand you might want to consider two facts:

1.
The organisation of Ultimate++ differs considerably from comparable GUI tools. Please refer to "Help Topics / Packages, Assemblies & Nests".

2.
The current Ultimate++ is the result of many years of development. New insights might suggest new solutions. But you are not always willing or even able to replace tried and tested code.

Nevertheless do not lose heart! Just use the built-in features of "TheIde". Explore "Assist". Especially "Ctrl+W", "Alt+I", and "Alt+J" might prove very useful.

Werner