Hi-

I spent a little time fooling around in U++ today. I am going to work on grid and arrayctrl stuff with the examples and firebird to practice. I am not sure if it can be used with sqlarray, but I don't care right now. I can still practice with the other controls while I am learning.

I need to just practice in general anyway with U++ and firebird at the moment.

It is going to be cool.

Have a cool week.
