Actually I expected the Linux, FreeBSD, etc. maintainers to answer. Are you doing all the stuff yourself?

Let us say I am responsible for majority of changes in uppsrc... including all platform specific code. This is not quite fortunate situation (nobody likes to depend on one-mans show), but it is as it is now...

So far, I have created all linux releases too (but not freebsd), which shows... (by avoiding all rules... I hope this is gona change soon.
