
Subject: Re: compile & link gtk+ using theide
Posted by 3togo on Wed, 30 Aug 2006 15:31:48 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Forget it la.

This would imply that someone have to write a pre-compiled library so that it could be called within u++. Actually I am thinking of writing a linux version of tray-icon for u++. It would require calling gtk+ library.

If anyone could give me any pointers to create such a library, it would be much appreciated. If not, I will study how to do so all on my own this coming weekend.

Thanks.

3togo
