I'm using "Breeze Dark" in the OS, looks IMO quite nice (KDE5.13 in distro "neon") (it's linux of course, people are still using windows? 8o weird...).

Not sure about its license and can't right now quickly google the original source, but if it's part of KDE, it should be... actually did find some licensing policy rules

https://community.kde.org/Policies/Licensing\_Policy = breeze icons should be LGPL3, not sure how that fits...
