When I had the problem, it happened again and again.
I debugged simple programs without child processes.
And after the latest modification (DebugProcessStop) I had not a single problem and I did heavy repeated testing and I tried to provoke the problem.
It did not happen again here.

All the best, and happy new year!

Well, would it be possible to came to consensus what the code should look like? I might have got lost, is trunk ok? Perhaps it does not contain koldo's addition, right? Can you post it here so that I add it to trunk?
