Hi Lance,

Sorry for late reply... I believe that proper way to solve is to either

1) use raw function from witz standard library in your template or

2) use Raw() in your code, to let the engine know that your value should not be escaped

I haven't use this in quite a long time, so I'm not exactly sure if it really fits into your scenario. But it should still work in general case.

Best regards,
Honza
