Hi Ray

I fully agree with my U++ colleagues. In addition if you are interested in handling MATLAB files I am developing a simple lib to handling .mat files.

I propose you to begin with a very simple, but useful project. The simpler is your project, the easier will be for us to support you.

Have it clear, if you show us simple cases and do the right questions, in U++ you don't feel alone.

We might be small but we have a big heart :)
