Hello Xemuth,

License for the SurfaceCtrl should be added by adding only Copying file. The reason for that is simply it integrates well with TheIDE. When you click on "File" -> ""License" your license should be there. So, I suggest to remove/rename other files. You do not also need to past there license for other libraries like assip. It should be added automatically by Copying file in this package. BTW, Koldo can you do the same with plugin/assimp I see that there is lack of Copying file and there is LICENSE file. Also, it would be great if Copying file will be attached to package.

If think in your case the license file (Copying) should look as follow:

THEORY OF LIABILITY, WHETHER IN CONTRACT, STRICT LIABILITY, OR TORT (INCLUDING NEGLIGENCE OR OTHERWISE) ARISING IN ANY WAY OUT OF THE USE OF THIS SOFTWARE, EVEN IF ADVISED OF THE POSSIBILITY OF SUCH DAMAGE.

You could place your name there, however I suggest to mention it in documentation and thanks Koldo there. This is general approach for the packages that has aspiration to join uppsrc family :)

My first suggestion is to make as less dependency to other packages as you can.
