Subject: Should be GUI_APP_MAIN or CONSOLE_APP_MAIN ignored in non-main package?

Sometimes I am using main package as non-main (usually as temporary duck-tape solution, but still useful sometimes). In those situations, I usually add

#ifdef flagMAIN
GUI_APP_MAIN
{
 MyApp().Run();
#endif

around MAIN. Which now made me think: This could be done by the library too. Should I go there? I suspect that there might be some problems down the road...
