[status] Nothing to update

The screenshot shows a terminal window with a green title bar. The output of the 'git status' command is displayed in a monospaced font. The first line indicates the current branch is 'master' and it is up-to-date with 'origin/master'. The next two sections, 'Changes to be committed' and 'Changes not staged for commit', both show '(no files)'. The 'Untracked files' section lists several files with a question mark prefix, indicating they are not tracked by git. The last line shows '[status] Nothing to update' in a blue box, with '88%' visible on the right side.
