
Subject: Re: Is there a non-allocating String similar to a string_view in NTL?

Posted by Oblivion on Sat, 28 May 2022 06:41:59 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Quote:I have a COW database that uses mmap and the String type seems to either allocate or move when I would like to just have a const pointer/len to memory itself. Is there anything in NTL that can do this?

How about Upp::MemReadStream? If I understand you correctly, this seems to be what you need.

Best regards,

Oblivion
