Thanks!

Since I began with an empty package, I needed to add a configuration flag (whatever that is) in addition to a main function for it to register as a main package.

I've fixed the broken link. It was originally that way because the forum wouldn't let me add images on my first post.

Also, is there a to make the IDE show which files are unsaved? Or is this irrelevant since the editor aggressively autosaves? And how do modules and settings sync if possible work with version control (Git)?