Satervalley wrote on Tue, 03 January 2023 05:30my use case is very simple, when click the down arrow, popped drop list has 2 columns(I use it to show database fields, first column is field name, 2nd column is field data type). I use ListObject to get the arrayctrl instance, and then AddColumn to archive 2 columns droplist.

How do you fill that second column?
