Hi all,
Just tried to install U++ in Linux Mint /opt directory using the install script.
After the script finished, I got this:

There were errors
Something went wrong.
Please use make to compile theide and/or notify developers.

There were fatal errors at each step but the errors are all the same, suggesting that a file has slipped out of the tarball.
an example is:

1 error generated.
1 error generated.
