1. In dark theme, the Topic++ editor is still in light mode. Would be nice if it can melt with environment.

Colors are user setting. I do not know whether user wants it or not. Normally, theide chooses the scheme on the first run, but then user is allowed to change it any way he likes, so it would not be very nice to change the scheme at that point.

Well, maybe we could solve that with having 2 user configurations, one for light one for dark? But in the next release..
