Hi,

RC5 seems to work just fine here! Looking forward to the release. :)

BTW: For the NEXT release cycle: In TheIDE, would it be possible to allow the 'UWord' like editor (like it currently is for .qtf files) to share the split screen slices in the same fashion as .cpp and .h files currently do when the split is active? This way I could see the code and work on related QTF files and vice versa. That would fit well on a large 4k screen an ease handling the content side-by-side. Of course, the .tpp documentation would be equally handy to have editable on the other half of the split screen.

Best regards,

Tom
