Subject: Re: LOG files in ~/.App-name/logs/date.log in Linux
Posted by masu on Thu, 09 Nov 2006 20:39:54 GMT

luzr wrote on Thu, 09 November 2006 20:30Well, I was thinking about something like that too, but is that "logs" sub-dir necessary?
Mirek
I think the subdir necessary when looking at the number of log files created, due to date in the name. Or you integrate the date of logs into single files for usrlog, buglog, etc.

Matthias