Quote:There can be a case, when user don't want to type TAB characters, but want to use TAB key to navigate through controls. I made it possible to choose between the two behaviour programatically. I created new methods: ProcessTab, NoProcessTab and IsProcessTab in DocEdit and LineEdit classes. Other modified files are: TextEdit.h and Text.cpp The default behaviour is the same as before.

Thanks zsolt. This is exactly what I was going to patch myself..
