Well, there are in fact two problems:

- if you open prompt by double-click, it has that "no-focus" trouble. I will spend a couple of hours today trying to fix it (and another couple of hours trying to get GTK theme "grand canyon" scollbars displayed correctly

- PromptOK could be closed by pressing Enter only (because it has one OK button). This one I have already fixed (hacked Prompt so that if there is just single OK button, it closes by Esc too). Strange nobody noticed this small trouble yet..
