Well, I was thinking we will put there a link to 2007.1 beta indeed very soon.

Mirek

That's good.

I must confess, I have product release "jitters" too but I guess there will always be just one more thing to fix. Why not just release it and get on with the next dev version. Remember that there is no end to this.

If there are no known fatal bugs, and you release a dev version sooner, more users will be able to help you test it and possibly suggest ways to fix the bugs.

Best Regards,

Yeoh
