
Subject: Re: assembly for boost
Posted by unodgs on Sat, 28 Jan 2006 16:07:12 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

I think for u++ the best solution is to use PCRE:

<http://www.pcre.org/>

It has BSD license. I was playing a bit with it. It compiles and run without any problems. It provides Perl syntax for regular expressions (the best IMO). The library is widely known and used.
