Trying to build "Concrete01" or "ide", e. g., with gcc 4.1.1 yields:

```
Quote:D:\ProgWin\upp\uppsrc\Core\heap.cpp:60: error: expected ',' or '...' before 'char'
D:\ProgWin\upp\uppsrc\Core\heap.cpp: In function 'void Upp::MemorySum(int&)':
D:\ProgWin\upp\uppsrc\Core\heap.cpp:62: error: expected unqualified-id before '=' token
D:\ProgWin\upp\uppsrc\Core\heap.cpp:63: error: 'large' was not declared in this scope
D:\ProgWin\upp\uppsrc\Core\heap.cpp: In function 'void* Upp::MemoryAlloc(size_t)':
D:\ProgWin\upp\uppsrc\Core\heap.cpp:589: error: '_msize' was not declared in this scope
D:\ProgWin\upp\uppsrc\Core\heap.cpp: In function 'void Upp::MemoryFree(void*)':
D:\ProgWin\upp\uppsrc\Core\heap.cpp:611: error: '_msize' was not declared in this scope
```

The same is true for gcc 3.4.2.
