Subject: Re: Associate with *.c files
Posted by mirek on Thu, 29 Mar 2007 18:49:36 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Seven wrote on Mon, 26 March 2007 14:36Hi all! I would like so see the U++ associate with files would be nice. Taking a .c file, cliking on it and U++ open the .c file, when i try to do this association (on Windows XP), i do a double click on a *.c file U++ opens but opens without the file.
It's a feature included in the ToDo list?

Sorry if it is a repeated topic.
Cya guys

No, this is the first time.

I guess the reason is that U++ is about complex projects. Opening single C file is not very helpful there...

Mirek