Subject: Re: strange looking window
Posted by mirek on Sat, 19 May 2007 09:19:29 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Ah, I see.

But that is on purpose! Linking it into .lib file would result in the exact same problem you have encountered - there are no references from the rest of the code to the .obj, therefore linker would omit the object file.

The point is that you have to link that .obj directly! (Not sure it is possible with MSCV, but I think it should be).