Hello Koldon,

I just noticed that Mirek to speed up the development of UppHub move some or your crucial packages into ultimatepp organization. Sometimes ago, we agree that only core packages should be placed there. So, in the long term it should be move under personal umbrella. Could you move these packages in your spare time and create PR with updated link to UppHub repository.

Note: No need to create PR, maintainers of list will be happy to fix that for you. But moving them, eventually (no pressure) might be good.

Or not, we can discuss this. I have to say I am not sure what is the best approach in this case...

Hi Klugier.

You should address this to Mirek, not to me.

Hi Klugier.

You should address this to Mirek, not to me.

Well, it is not that easy: I cannot create repository under you personal account in github.

But you CAN move the modules I have created to your personal account (there is web interface in github to do so) if we/you decide it is desirable.

It is not appropriate to use capital letters to tell me to do something that you told me two days ago you were going to do for me.

Hello Koldo,

Let's speak on Skype. I send invitation to you The whole movement process to UppHub is relatively easy (under personal account). I think Mirek had good intentions to do the move. As far as I understand we would like to cut off whole bazaar soon. I think it is no longer present in the nightly builds, so UppHub is the only option.

I would like to tell that you shouldn't commit to bazaar packages like Control4U and Function4U anymore. This is leading in two concurrent repositories.

Actually we are receiving reports of Bazaar packages failing.
Please take the actions without breaking actual code.

Hi all,
I have reported that Control4U downloaded from uppHub does no longer contain PolyXml.h file and therefore breaks my old code.

See https:// www.ultimatepp.org/forums/index.php?t=msg&th=11403&s tart=0&

Koldo suggested to get the svn version of Control4U to solve my problem

Thank you for advice

Hello BioBytes,

Consider all Koldo's package right now as unstable. We are working on movement them to separate organization called Libraries4U. I think the whole process will start on the upcoming weekend. After that each separate package should be available as UppHub entity.

Right now, if you would like to use nightly (unstable) build you should use svn version of bazaar. It is still there. You could also back to stable release that contains bazzar. However, Koldo's hot fixes are not present.

I would like to sorry for this transition period, but it must happened.

Hello Klugier,
Many thanks for explanation about Bazaar packages. I think the good way is to wait for the updating of uppHub next week. Just a question about the svn source, may I get it directly from github or is there something else to do ?

Regards

Libraries4U should be now available through UppHub.
