Subject: How to output variable values with time stamp in windows application
Posted by sinpeople on Fri, 10 Dec 2021 16:26:10 GMT

Hi Folks,

   My application is a windows based one. Due to the real time nature, I can only output debug messages with time stamp real time. If I attach it to a debugger, any delay will affect system algo.

   How do you output debug messages in this case? Here is a screenshot of my windows application.

   Thank you!

Best Regards
David

Hi David:

Not that I might know how to fix your problem, but you may want to be more clear on what you want to do, and what you tried but did not work. Your statement and sample code don't seem to convey these information well enough.

Are DUMP, LOG etc not suitable for your case?

Regard,
Lance
