Hi to all

A much sought-after feature has been included in ScatterDraw/ScatterCtrl, and has now been implemented almost by chance.

In order to show the least number of significant digits in the numbers displayed next to the grid, the AdjustMinUnit*() and AdjustMajorUnit*() functions have been modified, affecting the operation of the ZoomToFit() function, and therefore, the operation of the interactive zoom and scroll.

In the image you can see the operation before (left) and after (right).
