Those are missing from the package. Not your fault.

From the CLI, the executable name to type is "theide".

I scaled the icon up to 48x48, which is the norm for X11 app icons . I think you should use that for the package (rename back to theide.png!).

At that size, maybe we should rather scale down that nice graphics logo (from about box).

I think that has too much detail for an icon. The current icon is quite OK IMHO. I sharpened it a bit with The GIMP, after scaling - looks alright to me.
